Tiffin O. Feb. 4, 1939.

More than ordinary emphasis will be given activities of Alpha Psi, Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary, during the second semester at Heidelberg College here, Dorothy Jane Spangler, Tiffin senior and secretary of the chapter, said today.

An extensive program, which will be concluded with the annual education dinner, is being prepared, she said. Miss Spangler has been a leader in education activities on the Heidelberg campus.

NEWS OF YEAR

DEDICATION

We dedicate this book to our parents, whose love and interest have directed us along the path of knowledge and whose labors and sacrifices have made possible our high school education.

July 8, 1939.

An auto driven by Gordon Eberly of near Green Springs, was damaged Sunday morning when it went out of control and went into the ditch on Route 53, near the Old Fort school. It is believed that the accident was caused by the blowing out of a front tire. The right front wheel and front axle and knee-action mechanism were wrecked. No one was injured.

July 5. - 1939

Continued improvement is reported in the condition of Raymond Hersh, of Bettsville, who was injured last week in a threshing runaway on the James Fry farm. Hersh is still a patient in Mercy Hospital. Sidney Burkett, who was also hurt in the accident, has been released from the hospital and is recuperating at home.

FOREWORD

We present this volumn to the Seniors as a permanent chronicle of their failures and accomplishments, lest they forget . . . . .

to the Juniors as a challenge to publish a bigger and better book next year . . .

to the Sophomores as an incentive to take a greater interest in their school work and activities . . . . .

to the Freshmen as an insight into their coming years at Senior High . . . . .

to the alumni as proof that the flame they left behind is burning brighter each year . . . . .

to the teachers who with patience and love have borne our failures and short comings throughout the past twelve years.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Nineteen hundred and twenty-nine . . . Memories of grade school days . . . faint, mysterious . . . Junior High . . . our immediate interest . . . New subjects . . . teachers . . . clanging bells . . . swift moving classes . . . bewildering halls . . . rigid rules . . . Then a step higher, grade eight . . . looked down upon by the freshmen . . . But everything comes to him who waits . . . And it did . . . We became the domineering and egotistical freshmen . . . Our reign was supreme . . . Time catches up with us . . . Class night . . . our promising dramatic ability revealed in "Camouflage" . . . snow white skirts, dainty blouses, starched shirts . . . And Columbian just around that well known corner. . . .

Sophomores . . . 1932 . . . bosses and ordered about by high and mighty seniors . . . There will come a day . . . thought every timid "soph" . . . Friendly clubs . . . What a thrill! . . . Our first class meeting . . . Motto, Be Square . . . Blue Iris . . . Blue and silver . . . Election of . . . Chancey Huber, Jr., president . . . Wilbert Martin, vice-president . . . Erford Bintz, secretary . . . William Grant, treasurer . . . Sophomore Prom . . . crisp, pastel organdies; blue and silver streamers; warm, smiling faces . . . summer vacation. . . .

Juniors . . . A step into the upper ranks . . . scornful of the sophomores . . . but still mindful of the seniors . . . extra-curricular activities . . . We elected . . . Clifford Greek, president . . . Robert Parkins, vice-president . . . Evelyn Kapp, secretary . . . Chauncey Huber, Jr., treasurer . . . Managed to stage return in Captain Applejack" . . . Then hardest task of all . . . playing host to haughty seniors . . . Financial supporter in the Junior-Faculty game . . . tackle decoration of gym . . . came out with clever color schemes, low lights, lilting music from dance band . . . The best prom in years . . . so we were told by our guests. . . .

Hurrah! . . . and alas! . . . all in one breath . . . the final block . . . Seniors . . . The whip hand was ours . . . and we've cracked it well . . . Our members have left their impression on all school records, clubs, teams . . . Last officers . . . president, James Kern . . . (Incidentally . . . we proclaim him the smallest president of any senior class) . . . vice-president, Wilbert Martin . . . secretary, Janet Somers . . . treasurer, Martha Porter . . . Graduation draws close . . . Baccalaureate . . . Sensational senior play . . . Finally, roses, wet eyes, frightened speakers, ribbons, diplomas . . . Silent Seniors review the years . . . then turn to face life squarely. . . .

TROPHY CASE

BUCYRUS

Beginning of basketball season . . . started out on wrong foot . . . Lost to a powerful veteran Bucyrus team. . . .

BELLEVUE

Again Tiffin tasted defeat . . . Not quite strong enough yet . . . Defeated by arch enemy Bellevue. . . .

FINDLAY

Unable to make headway . . . against uncanny shooting of Findlay . . . Once more came home . . . without the "bacon". . . .

FREMONT

The Tiffin quintet did itself proud . . . Trailed 9-0 first quarter . . . overcame lead and scored easy victory. . . .

SANDUSKY

Columbian . . . no match for Blue Streaks . . . Fought valiantly against too great odds . . . Lost fourth game. . . .

FOSTORIA

Blue and Gold able to solve Fostoria's zone defense . . . Romped over "Red Men" in easy style . . . End of first half of Buckeye league play. . . .

JUNIOR HOME

Tiffin played mediocre ball . . . Lost county and city title to Junior Home . . . A close game. . . .

FINDLAY

Columbian had five point lead late in last quarter . . . Findlay managed to eke out a win in final minute . . . Thrilling game. . . .

FREMONT

Tiffin . . . forced to background by playing of inspired Fremont team . . . Opponents zone defense could not be broken. . . .

SANDUSKY

Large first half lead . . . deciding factor . . . in Sandusky's second defeat of T. H. S. . . . Blue and Gold outfought, outscored and outplayed opponents in second half. . . .

FOSTORIA

Tiffin experienced no difficulty in subduing Fostoria again . . . Gave them fourth place in Buckeye league standing. . . .

CALVERT

Our Jefferson street neighbors . . . gave little trouble . . . easily defeated . . . Game was never in doubt from first whistle. . . .

GIBSONBURG

Gibsonburg . . . could not cope with Tiffin's stellar shooting . . . Easily routed . . . in final game of regular season . . . Gave high school record of five wins . . . eight losses. . . .

TOURNAMENT

WILLARD

Tiffin played ragged ball . . . Barely managed to defeat Willard . . . in a rough and tumble contest. . . .

SANDUSKY

Avenging two past defeats . . . in a decisive manner . . . Tiffin defeated Sandusky in a hard fought battle . . . Every member on Columbian team . . . did himself proud . . . displayed brand of ball . . . that characterized Tiffin High's teams in past. . . .

ASHLAND

Columbian five overshadowed by clever Ashland team . . . Tiffin never once close to their opponents, the darkhorses of the tournament . . . End of High school basketball for seven members of the squad. . . .

TRACK

Outlook for 1935 track season at Tiffin High . . . not very good when book goes to press . . . . With only five lettermen returning, Nye, Stover, Greek, Detterman, Miller . . . Coach Junkins has little material of known ability to work with . . . but a great deal of promising material coming on . . . .

Spring football practice . . . cut heavily into track's training season . . . taking a heavy toll from among the thinclads . . . After football practice was over . . . track began in earnest . . . Several boys have shown great promise so far this year . . . .

If the team accomplishes anything at Findlay, May 4 . . . Coach Junkins hopes to get dual meets with two of the following . . . Attica, Thompson, Old Fort or Sycamore . . . But if the team fails to come through on 4th . . . the schedule will be exactly as given on next page. . . .

TIFFIN HIGH SONG

We're loyal to you, Tiffin High!
We're gold and blue, Tiffin High!
We'll back you to stand 'gainst the best in the land,
For we know you have sand,
Tiffin High!

Go smash that blockade, Tiffin High,
Go crashing ahead, Tiffin High,
Our team is our fame protector,
On, boys, for we expect a
Victory from you,
Tiffin High!

TIFFIN HIGH YELL

T-T-T-I-F!
F-F-F-I-N!
T-I-F!
F-I-N!
TIFFIN HIGH WILL WIN!

NATIONAL AWARDS

The Senior Class of 1935 takes a bow . . . and why not? . . . For the first time . . . in Columbian's history . . . there are five boys in a graduating class . . . eligible for the National Athletic Scholarship Society . . . An honor . . . not to be dealt with lightly . . . These classmates have held Scholastic honors . . higher than the average. . . BLUE AND GOLD STAFF

The honorable Blue and Gold Staff . . . in action . . . Lines, printing . . . engravers, covers . . . This color or that . . . We'll take that . . . Bright or soft gold . . . circles or triangles . . . arranging pictures . . . counting words . . . Polishing up brain machinery for a bright idea . . . Who can forget those staff meetings . . . Words, flying back and forth . . . not always cool ones, either . . . Snapshots, still life, arranging pages. . . .

Advisers begin action . . . book takes on character . . . more headaches . . . more fun . . . Why do words seem to be so elusive . . . just when one needs them most . . . Martha and Willetta . . . pondering over features . . . Frederick frantically discussing with Mary Alice . . . this all-important budget . . . Bill . . . studying objects for odd angles in his camera shots. . . .

Sports . . . being given a good, thorough going over . . . by Wilbert and Clifford . . . Hulda Jane and Chancey . . . worrying from where that next subscription is coming . . . and preparing windy speeches . . . to impress prospective purchasers . . . Evelyn . . . inquiring into the Seniors' past histories . . . and finding little to tell about . . . Orville . . . impressing a fact . . . on Janet's mind . . . that that every page must be balanced . . . with no result . . . Freddie . . . smiling at frowning faces . . . knowing his work is finished . . . And above it all . . . Helen quietly pecking away . . . adding her bit to the general uproar.

Finally . . . The Seniors' book is formulated . . . and sent on its jaunt about the countryside . . . to return . . . a masterpiece in itself . . . or so the weary, careworn staff . . . hope. . . .

SENIOR CLASS SONG

Ere the years have long gone by,
With fondest thoughts of Tiffin High,
We turn our hearts to view upon
Those joyous days forever gone.

Here were made foundations strong,
To live the right, to do no wrong,
We'll soar or sink—we know not where,
Our motto stands—through all Be Square.

Chorus:
So here's to the Trials,
And to the Injuries.
A toast to our Fun,
And to the Faculty,
Our learnings Immortal,
Adherence to the Norm.
But you, Tiffin High School,
Our wreath of love adorn!

Words by Mary Alice Hershberger

"There is direct and indirect taxation. Give me an example of indirect taxation."

"The dog tax, sir."

"How is that?"

"The dog does not have to pay for it."

"Conductor! Help me off the train."

"Sure."

"You see, I'm stout and I have to get off the train backwards. The porter thinks I'm getting on and gives me a shove on again. I've five stations past my destination now."

An old negro was taking a civil service examination for the position of rural mail carrier. He was asked, "How far is it from the earth to the sun?"

The old fellow looked frightened and exclaimed, "Ef you-all is gwinter put me on that route, Ize resignin' before I begins."

The laziest guy in the world handed in an exam paper on which he said the following, "Please see Pete's paper for the answer."

Mr. Bailey: "Thursday we'll take arsenic and Friday, chlorine."

Rhea Otto: "We won't need the chlorine."

A woman we know was baking pies and she baked an extra one and sent it over to her next-door neighbor. Next day the neighbor called to the woman's little girl and said to her, "Here's the dish your mother sent that pie in. I'm sorry I haven't anything to send back in it."

The little girl replied, "Oh, that's all right. You can just keep the dish until you have."

Teacher: "Robert, give me a sentence with the word 'gruesome' in it."

Robert: "When my dad had his mustache shaved off, he grew some whiskers."

Inspector: "That new man will never make a detective."

Chief: "How is that?"

Inspector: "There was a fifty-pound box of soap stolen from a railroad car, and the fool arrested a tramp."

City Man: "Tell me, how's the milkmaid?"

Country Lass: "It isn't made, you poor nut, the cows give it."

Father: "What are you reading, Caroline?"

Daughter: "A novel, father, entitled 'The Heart of a Poor Girl.' "

"Umph! The usual rubbish, I suppose."

"Yes, dad. It's a book you presented to mother years ago."

It was an orchestral concert, and after gazing for some time at the bass fiddle player, a man in the stalls muttered: "He'll never do it; he'll never do it."

At length the title of the first number was announced, whereupon the mutterer continued his remark, louder each time. This was too much for a man in the row in front, and eventually he turned and said: "Stop your mutterings, sir!"

"Well, he can't do it, I tell you, I know he can't!" was the reply.

"Can't do what?"

"Put that big fiddle under his chin."

The teacher of the rural school was having her troubles and at length wrote to the mother: "Georgie is the brightest boy in my room, but he is also the most mischievous. What shall I do with him?"

Back came the answer: "Don't ask me what you should do with Georgie. That's your business. I have my hands full trying to manage his father and two little brothers."

Senior: "How many studies are you carrying?"

Freshman: "I'm carrying one and dragging three."

"Now I've got you in my grip," said the villian as he shoved his toothpaste in his valise.

They had been sitting in the swing in the moonlight alone. No word broke the stillness for half an hour until—

"Suppose you had money," she said, "what would you do?"

He threw out his arms in all the glory of young manhood.

"I'd travel!" he said.

He felt her warm young hand slide into his. When he looked up she had gone.

In his hand lay a nickel.

"Why, Ralph," said his father, "why don't you eat your dinner?"

"I'm waiting for my horseradish to cool," he sighed.

Teacher: "If I cut a beefsteak in two, then cut the halves in two, then divide the pieces, what do I get?"
Freshman: "Eighths."
Teacher: "Correct. Again?"
Freshman: "Sixteenths."
Teacher: "Correct. Again?"
Freshman: "Thirty-seconds."
Teacher: "Correct. And once again?"
Freshman: "Hamburger."

A Frenchman came to London to learn the language, and soon got into difficulties with his pronunciation, especially with the group comprising "though," "plough," and "rough."
When the film, "Cavalcade," began to run and one newspaper review was headed, "'Cavalcade' pronounced Success," the Frenchman went back home.

Two Irishmen stood in front of a drug store. In the window was a display of rubber gloves.
"Now, I wonder what is them things for?" asked one of the Irishmen.
"Oh," replied the other Irishman, "you can put them things on an' wash yer hands without gettin' yer hands wet."

Returning from the dentist's, where he had gone to have a tooth pulled, little Henry reported as follows:
"The doctor told me 'fore he began that if I yelled it would cost me seventy-five cents, and if I was a good boy it would be only fifty cents."
"Did you yell?" asked his mother.
"How could I? You only gave me half a dollar."

Most people know how to catch on. Only the really smart ones know when to let go.

Coach: "Why didn't you turn out for track practice yesterday?"
George: "Well, Coach, I couldn't; I had a date."
Coach: "And just where did you get the idea that a date gives you the right to cut practice?"
George: "Well, a miss is as good as a mile."

Officer: "Say, didn't you see that signal?"
Hossler: "E-er-yes, sir—but I didn't see you."

Little Betty, watching the farm hands spreading out a stack of hay to dry, could contain her curiosity no longer, so she politely asked:
"Is it a needle you're looking for?"

The band had just finished playing a vigorous selection. As they sank back into their seats after the applause, Floren George asked: "What's the next one?"
"America," answered Mr. Wherry.
"Heavens!" exclaimed Floren, "I just got through playing that one."

Senior: "I don't like these proofs at all. I look like a monkey."
Photographer: "You should have thought of that before you had them taken."

The absent minded professor looked at himself in the hair brush instead of the mirror.
"Jehosophat! But I need a shave," he exclaimed.

She: "What was that noise when you came in last night?"
He: "Night falling."
She: "Oh, excuse me, I thought it was day breaking."

A medical authority says that when the eyes are closed, the hearing is more acute. That explains, then, why so many go to sleep in school. They want to hear everything.

I felt his hot breath on my cheek,
  And the gentle touch of his hand,
His very presence near me
  Seems a breeze on desert sand.

He deftly sought my lips,
  Seeking my hand to enfold,
And then he whispered softly,
"Shall the filling be silver or gold?"

Mary: "Why does Reiter call his car Paul Revere?"
Jane: "Because of the midnight rides."

"How old are you sonny?" demanded the inquisitive old man of the youngster on the bench.
"Six, sir," came the brisk reply.
"Six!" echoed the old man. "And yet you are not so tall as my umbrella."
The boy drew himself up to his full height. "How old is your umbrella?" he asked.

It has been requested that we write our jokes on tissue paper so that the sophomores can see through them.

Police Sergeant: "Is the man dangerously wounded?"
Patrolman: "Two of the wounds are fatal, but the other one isn't so bad."

Sunday School Teacher: "Can you tell something about Good Friday, Earl?"
Earl: "Yes'm. He was the fellow that did housework for Robinson Crusoe."

Buck Engle: "Let's have a big T locomotive before the coach comes in."
Voice from the stands: "What do you think this is, a railroad yard?"

Barber: "Any particular way you want your hair cut?"
Bill: "Yes, shorter."

Virginia: "That is a picture I painted of the Israelites being pursued through the Red Sea."
Evelyn: "Where is the sea?"
Virginia: "Why, that's rolled back to let the Israelites pass."
Evelyn: "Where are the Israelites?"
Virginia: "They've gone by."
Evelyn: "Then where are their pursuers?"
Virginia: "Oh, they'll be along in a minute."

Benefactor: "How are you getting along?"
Student: "I'm trying to get ahead."
Benefactor: "You need one."

Pud: "Did you give Bob any opportunities to propose?"
Marj: "Yes, but goodness, I couldn't tell him they were opportunities, could I?"

It's a fact that the only two who can live as cheaply as one are a flea and a dog.

Friend: "Why do you have such misspelled words and such bad grammar on the signs in your windows?"
Storekeeper: "People think I'm a fool and they come in expecting to get the best of me. Business is the best I've had in years!"

Paul: "Oh, Doctor, I forgot to ask you about that eye medicine you gave me."
Doctor: "Well?"
Paul: "Do I drop it into my eyes before or after meals?"

One day, while in school, Tom learned from his teacher that an anecdote was a tale. He went home, and his sister, who was sitting in the room next to his, heard a squeaking noise.
"Tommie, what are you doing?" she asked.
"Oh, Nellie," he replied, "I just stepped on the cat's anecdote."

Teacher: "When was Rome built?"
Student: "At night."
Teacher: "Who told you that?"
Student: "You did. You said Rome wasn't built in a day."

Shumway: "I'm cheerleader at the florist's."
Peg: "What do you mean?"
Shumway: "I root for them."

"It's the little things in life that tell," said the girl as she yanked her kid brother from under the divan.

Looking in a mirror is either courage or vanity.

Don't worry if you flunk. After all, zero is only nothing.

1 Beauty and her beast.

2 Watchfully waiting.

3 Love me.

4 Where's Nubbs?

5 He lost a nickel.

6 Back to nature.

7 Nice cat.

8 Upper, upper, upper.

9 Hungry.

10 Same beauty—same beast.

11 The lady or the lion?

12 A thorn between two roses.

13 One side of a lamp pole.

14. The other side of a lamp pole.

15 Two birds on a post.

16 Just posing.

17 Inspiration at the half.

18 What a man!

19 A lover of nature.

20 Ouch, my neck!

21 Did you ever see a dream sitting?

22 Hail Bellevue.

23 Look pleasant.

1 Happy.

2 Over the top.

3 B-r-r-r-r.

4 There are four of them.

5 Hopefully waiting.

6 Solitude.

7 Where's Mr. Lutz?

8 Contentment.

9 Nature at its best.

10 Notice the car.

11 Gals.

12 Smile.

13 Let's have a game.

14 Tra-la-la

15 Action!

16 Taking it easy.

17 A "Business" Man.

18 Bon Jour.

19 All dressed up.

20 On your toes.

21 Nature in the raw.

22 Just so.
